

TERMS ABOUT MADE WITH THE SOUTHERN

Governor Glenn and Officials of the Road Practically Agree on 2 1-2 Cent Rate.

THE COAST LINE DISSENTS

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

RALEIGH, N. C., December 11.—President Finley, of the Southern Railway Company, spent three hours in the city this forenoon, he and Vice President A. B. Andrews having another conference with Governor Glenn. Neither of the railway officials made any statement as to the purpose or results of the conference.

However, after going over the situation with E. J. Justice and others interested on the part of the State in the litigation, Governor Glenn this evening gave to the press a statement of the whole rate situation, in which he says he made the first proposition to settle the case out of court, in that he proposed that the 2-1-4 cent rate be allowed to remain in effect long enough to test it as to whether it would be confiscatory, and if proven that it was he would call a special session of the Legislature and procure a just rate.

The Southern would not accept this, and offered a counter-proposition identical with that proposed to the Governor of Alabama for a 2-1-4 cent flat rate, with 2-1-4 cent mileage books. This, he said, he could not recommend to the Legislature if an extra session were called. So, after conference with State's counsel and State officials, he decided to make the railroad a proposition to put in a 2-1-2 cent flat rate, provided the railroad also agreed to reduce interstate transportation to 2-1-2 cents, so that inter and intra-state rates would be uniform, and also to put on sale 5,000 mileage books of 2 cents, interstate and intrastate, 1,000 mile books for firms and employees, not over five persons, good in and out of the State and interchangeable; a 500-mile family mileage book, good in the State at 2 cents, with the further stipulation that the railroad bear all the expense of the litigation to date, including attorneys' fees up to the time of compromise.

The Southern Railway agreed to this, with the exception of the 2-cent family book, a novelty of which they were afraid, and offered to include this at 2-1-2 cents.

After conferring with State officials and counsel the Governor says he agreed to this rather than drag along with the litigation. The Seaboard Air Line joined with the Southern, but the Atlantic Coast Line objected, and other roads have not been heard from. Unless the proposition were accepted by all the roads, the Governor says, it would be useless to call the Legislature, unless he concludes to ask it to ratify the terms applied to those roads agreeing and then pass such laws as may be deemed wise to settle the rate matter with those roads holding aloof from the pending proposition. He says that in the meantime the State will continue to prosecute its case in the Federal court, the first hearing to be in the habeas corpus case from Asheville, in the United States Supreme Court, December 18th.

THE NEWS OF RALEIGH.

Goes to Superintendents Conference: Killing of Denton a Mystery Still.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

RALEIGH, N. C., December 11.—Hon. J. T. Joyner, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, left to-day for Charlotte to attend the session of the West Central District Association of County Superintendents of Public Schools. This body will be in session there Thursday and Friday, the membership embracing twenty counties contiguous to Mecklenburg. In the case of Frank Denton, who was found horribly mangled under the long trestle of the Norfolk and Southern, just within the city limits this day morning, nothing has developed to indicate the manner of his death. There had been no train that could have struck him, and the coroner and others do not think it possible that he could have been mangled as he was by falling through the trestle, as the bridges and cuts about his head and shoulders many think would indicate foul play, possibly murder, for the purpose of robbery. However, there is nothing to implicate any one.

The executive committee in charge of the campaign for prohibition had a meeting last night to further perfect organization and plans for the campaign, especially as to the campaign funds. Between $200 and $400 was the estimate of the needs of the committee. About $500 of this is pledged through individual subscriptions. The Rev. Mordant Ham, who stirred Asheville and Wilmington recently so thoroughly in the cause of prohibition, is to arrive here later in the week and remain until the election, December 26th, being employed by the campaign committee. He will, without fixed compensation, but with the understanding that he is to be "taken care of."

The board of directors of the State Hospital for the insane here was in session to-day receiving annual reports of Superintendent James McKee and other officers of the institution, also showing being most satisfactory.
